

AWARD WINNING REFITS

Rebuilds of historical yachts and restoration of classics.

Huisfit has an established track record of success with such projects. Structural work, repairs and conservation of the yacht's full scope: hull conservation, sail handling, exterior, interior and board systems.

Although rebuild projects by Huisfit are never a "typical refit", the scope of such projects is widely regarded as a newbuild, both by those involved at the shipyard and by outside observers. Thanks to the owners of historical rebuild projects, these yachts will not become forgotten history: each one will remain a living sailing legend.

The Huisfit process brings together the exceptional infrastructure, technology and inhouse skills of Royal Huisman and sister company Rondal, with leading industry and specialists to provide a bespoke solution for every refit, rebuild and renewal project. All in one competitively tailored package.

For example, the classic 1930s motorsailer Atlantide arrived at the shipyard for a cosmetic refresh in January 2021. Designed by naval architect Alfred Mylne, she was built by British yard Philip & Sons in 1930 and has a rich history spanning more than 90 years. Atlantide sailed away after a full rebuild with 40 percent of her hull, deck and frames replaced, her interior fully reimaged and every onboard system except her original Gardner diesels fully overhauled or replaced.

Could Huisfit be the smart choice for your project, too?
