

Does the name Voodstoc ring a bell? From now on it will

This revolutionary plant label display stick feeds your plant gradually during ten weeks. At Voodstoc we not only think about sustainability and the circular economy, but we also take action. So, we made the biobased Voodstoc also biodegradable. Made from residual waste and wastewater from the potato industry, we use the waste as a raw material. Then we add some minerals to it, so it will feed your plant. A good example of the circular economy. So, we do not extract raw materials from nature to produce wooden or bamboo sticks.

Voodstoc, it's magic
