

A comprehensive range of acoustic & thermal solutions

A privately-owned international organisation specialising in supply of technical products, equipment and solutions to primary and secondary customers within aluminium, foundry, glass, zinc, steel, hearth and noise control. Since the company's foundation in 1956, Pyrotek is driven to offer our customers a diversified selection of engineered solutions.

Our unique range of innovative products are designed to meet ever-changing customer needs to solve new or existing noise and vibration issues. With over 80 locations in more than 35 countries, our global team of highly trained specialists provide expert knowledge and solutions to the construction, residential, industrial, transport, marine, LNG markets.

The Noise Control division of Pyrotek, previously known as Soundguard, was established in Australia over 40 years ago in 1972 to develop and manufacture a complete range of soundproofing products using various methods to ensure customers continually achieve higher quality standards and improved operating efficiencies.

Our expertise is reinforced by the strong ties we maintain with strategic partners to refine existing products and create new materials to meet evolving customer needs. In-house, state-of-the-art production facilities are backed by ISO Quality Assurance Standards certification so it's no wonder our solutions deliver on quality and price time-after-time.

How can we help you?

- vibration damping
- noise reduction
- acoustic absorption
- thermal insulation & coatings
- passive fire protection
- engineering, R&D, custom solutions

For more information on our range, please visit pyroteknc.com

Improving every type of environment