

Compliance Software for recreational craft professionals

At Rulefinder.net, we know certification requirements vary across authorities. With experience from nine Notified Bodies and several non-European regulators, we understand what each certifier focuses on and how their interpretations differ.

This expertise is built into CEproof. Our software produces documents that meet every certifier's standards, ensuring compliance with ease.

If an authority questions a boat's compliance, they'll request key documents. The quality of these will determine the outcome.

CEproof's three interlinked modules generate precise technical documentation, covering every standard. With CEproof, you get the best documentation for guaranteed acceptance.

So what is CEproof?

CEproof is a suite of sophisticated, award-winning, software packages for boat builders and designers that will produce ALL the documentation required to comply with the EU Recreational Craft Directive and the UK Recreational Craft Regulations:

- Technical Documentation
- Owner's Manual
- Declaration of Conformity

At least 9 EU Notified Bodies have issued certificates on the basis of CEproof's technical documentation.

A Notified Body is an organisation authorised to issue certificates to one or more EU Directives. An Approved Body is the UK equivalent for UKCA regulations.
